

Industrial Organiser – Lower South Island

The NZ Dairy Workers Union - Te Runanga Wai U (DWU) has a vacancy for a fulltime organiser position.

The position will be responsible for organising and representing members employed within dairy processing sites across the lower South Island region, including Timaru, Dunedin, Southland and Invercargill. The position is based within either the Otago or Southland region depending on the successful applicant. Applications from candidates who reside outside this region will also be considered.

The successful applicant will need to have an excellent understanding of industrial and employment matters, outstanding negotiation and interpersonal skills and an understanding and affinity with the trade union movement and union members. Previous trade union organising experience or first-hand knowledge of the dairy processing industry would be an advantage. Extensive travel within the lower South Island region, as well as outside the region for union-related matters, will be required of the successful applicant.

Competitive terms and conditions are offered in accordance with the DWU Staff Collective Employment Agreement.

A copy of the job description may be obtained from the DWU National Office on (07) 839-0239, or by email at info@dwu.nz.

Applications close at 5.00pm on Thursday, 3 August 2017.

Please apply in writing, including a CV and contact details for up to three referees to:
